IMPACT REPORT 2020-2021

MERCER STREET FRIENDS

In this report, we share stories – stories of the lives we’ve touched, the people we’ve served. We believe in the dignity of every person, so in some cases, names, pictures, or other personal details have been changed.

What hasn’t changed is the gratitude we have for the generosity and support reflected in this report!

FOOD

The Mercer Street Friends Food Bank leads the community response to hunger in Mercer County.

FAMILY

Mercer Street Friends provides parent and family engagement programs to families in need throughout Mercer county.

EDUCATION

Mercer Street Friends believes that investing in education will assist a child in obtaining the academic, emotional, and social skills to thrive and succeed in all areas of their lives.

Nourishing minds and bodies; Empowering families and communities.

As a Quaker-affiliated, nonsectarian 501(c)(3) organization, Mercer Street Friends honors the equality of all people and strives for a just, prosperous, and peaceful society for all. We respond to the needs of the community to build alliances that will have the most meaningful impact in addressing issues of poverty. We provide a range of integrated services that build community, nurture self-worth and independence, and offer resources for children, families, and communities to overcome poverty and its lasting effects.

A MESSAGE

From CEO, Bernie Flynn and Board of Trustees Chair, Ken Blackwell

Bernie Flynn, CEO

Ken Blackwell, Chair

Dear Friends,

We're writing to you today with good news.

Thanks to the care and compassion of all listed in these pages, Mercer Street Friends is ready to serve our community today, and to be of service for years to come.

With all that's happening in the world, our neighbors are still reeling. They remain vulnerable to job loss, hunger, medical emergencies, and mental health struggles. Serving them has never been more important.

The good news is that thanks to so many generous people and organizations, Mercer Street Friends now has a reserve fund: operating reserves, food reserves, capital reserves. This means we can be good stewards of the trust placed in us and provide our services without disruption. Thank you for your trust.

There has been a 50% increase in the need for food in our community and these pandemic conditions have led to enhanced nonprofit collaboration to best serve our community.

In 2021, we launched summer programming for students. Remote learning created academic and emotional challenges and Trenton students need to be in the classroom with their peers, in a safe, supportive environment.

The solutions are human-sized. One kind person at a time, working with others to do what they can to help, makes a huge difference. All our supporters make a difference. And we're grateful.

Without your faith in us, without your generosity and compassion, this work we do together would not be possible.

Thank you for your partnership.

With gratitude,

It all begins with food

Because without enough food – enough of the right food – we can't live.

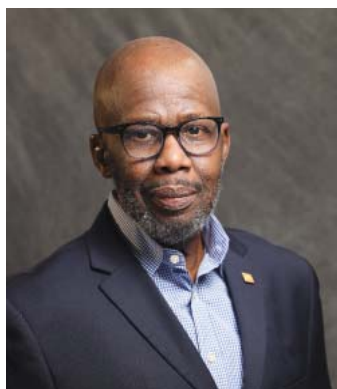

Without food, we can't learn. We can't grow. We can't thrive.

So when we give food, we also give care. We give welcome and hope.

We say, "I want you to know you matter." It all begins with food.

But it doesn't end there. Please read on to learn how you are sharing love and care with people who need you.

Community service is the heart of this team

James "Butter" Allen was returning from vacation in Disney World, right as the pandemic lockdown began. He was Vice Chairman of Mercer Street Friends Board of Trustees when he heard this plea to change his role. "We need you to run the Food Bank."

His life, and so many others, has never been the same since March 2020. Butter took on the challenge as Food Bank Director for Mercer Street Friends. With a combination of blunt honesty, warm encouragement, and a commitment to success at all levels, he has worked hand in hand with a team that directly serves our community, day in and day out.

That team includes 9 staff members and 300 dedicated volunteers. But there are no lines between them. Together, this team has one goal – excellent work and service.

Throughout the pandemic, the need only grew. So the Food Bank never closed. Since then, it has provided food to over 100 pantry partners and served more than 2 million meals through the Community Food Bag Program. Since schools reopened in September 2021, 1,500 SHUP (Send Hunger Packing) bags are distributed on Fridays, ensuring students do not go hungry over the weekend.

Butter talks about a philosophy he learned from an 8th grade student giving her commencement speech.

"I'm no longer going to worry about passing my exams. I'm not going to worry about how good I am reading this book and what I'm going to do for the rest (of my life). I'm going to continue to fail forward."

Butter says, "With funding and our teamwork, we can listen to our constituents and say, 'What do you need?'"

Different pantries need different food. One is all kosher. Another serves a community of different cultural background. But Butter knows it's his team's job to do all they can for each.

"My door stays on a welcome hinge. We're going to make sure you get at least the minimum. But you might want to come talk about the maximum."

“What I do fills my heart”

Donna first started volunteering with Mercer Street Friends four years ago, packing SHUP food bags for children to take home over the weekend. She had retired and thinking about hungry children moved her heart.

Then the pandemic hit. And for the first week, it felt like chaos and panic. “We knew we had so many more problems now. So we went to major bags that we’re currently packing.”

Donna and over 200 volunteers now pack over 1,000 bags weekly. They go to churches and other organizations who distribute them. And Donna is there, faithfully, twice every week to open products, pack bags, break down boxes.

Donna invites you to join the volunteers. “We’ll always welcome you and make you feel part of the team.”

“There are a lot of us who are committed to what we do as volunteers. I just feel the need to take care of people with food insecurities. The thought of someone going through a day hungry pains me. So what I do fills my heart.”

Responding to the need of food

Mercer Street Friends partners with over 100 agencies, religious institutions, schools, and senior and community centers to distribute food throughout Mercer County.

We are grateful for the work done in each corner of the County to ensure that children, adults, and families receive food. Arm In Arm, located in Trenton, is an example of a partner dedicated to serving others each day.

“The food from Arm In Arm helps my wife and I especially during the pandemic because I am retired and my wife was getting less and less shifts due to COVID19. I also pick up for my neighbor who is an elderly woman. We are very thankful for the food Arm In Arm provides.” - Arm In Arm Client

Supporting families with care

Life's biggest challenges often start with something else. An education and life plans interrupted by an unexpected pregnancy or other family obligations. A loss in income that leads to homelessness. Your support means we can step in to help at those crucial moments. Your generosity is changing the course of lives...one kind step at a time.

Cheryl found the way to help her family and herself

Cheryl came to Mercer Street Friends to get her high school diploma. She was the mom of six kids, including a newborn baby. She needed that diploma to care for her family. She knew it might be hard. But she was determined.

Cheryl came to every class and completed her requirements last year. She has now finished her first semester of nursing school. And her oldest daughter – also a college student – helped her with her math class.

Michelle Obermeier, Senior Instructor for Adult Basic Education, wants you to know, “The beautiful part of our program is our door is always open. You don’t have to wait. If you’re ready now, we’re ready, too.”

Emilia found guidance when she needed it most

Emilia came to our door, a high school student, scared and pregnant.

She looked at Maria Hernandez, Case Manager for Family Centered Services, and took a deep breath. “I’m not going back to school,” she said. “I can’t do both.”

Her whole future ahead of her...

Maria gave her what she hadn’t expected. Encouragement. Hope. “You can do both!”

Then they got to work. Maria explained there was help for young pregnant women. She directed Emilia to the available programs and helped her get started.

Two years later, Emilia was back. “Do you remember me?” she asked.

It took Maria a few seconds because she talks to so many young women. Emilia reminded her of their conversation two years earlier.

And proudly, she shared her news. “I’m in my second year of college now. I’m in social work. And I’m pregnant again. But now I know how to do it!”

Anna found she wasn’t alone, after all

Anna had nowhere else to turn.

In tears and five months pregnant, she called us to say her husband had just been taken away by immigration. He was their breadwinner. What was she going to do?

Anna had no way to pay her rent or utilities. And now, she was facing eviction.

Could we help?

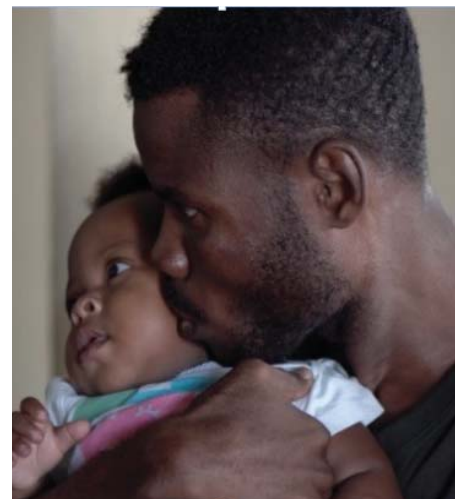

Yes, we guided her through various opportunities, translating for her when needed. Supporting people through hard times is what Mercer Street Friends does. Matthew Mayer, Healthy Families Program Supervisor says, “We could comfort her. And she knew someone was there to listen and help her.”

Anna was given the tools to support her efforts to pay her back rent, so she didn’t have to leave her home. Best of all was the day she called to let us know her husband was coming home.

Fathers find the way back to their children

So many things can get in the way of a healthy family life. Parents – often victims of childhood trauma themselves – can fall into unhealthy patterns with their own children. They may not know what healthy parenting looks like.

Many of the fathers in this program have never been around babies. And now they’re called to be in their child’s life – if they can. So they have to work through their own experiences as a child. Cheryl Miller, our Parent Educator/Case Manager for Family Support and Reunification Program, helps teach them – how to heal, and how to parent.

One father told her, “I wasn’t quite sure how to act. So I tried what you said. And it really worked. It felt kind of odd, but it really worked.”

Embracing education

When we're fed – in body and spirit – we can grow

And when we grow, we can do amazing things.

That's why we must feed our children with love and curiosity about the world.

We must share our love of learning. We must create a safe place, where every child feels loved. So their talents can shine. So their horizons can grow. So they love learning for the rest of their lives.

It is a joy to have children in person, to see them happy and learning. Adjusting to their new environment, the children are “Our Purpose” and the Staff has been amazing – kind, patient, and ready to teach and have fun as well. Our hearts are happy to hear their voices and the noise that they make, the building is once again alive with the sound of children. ~Ms. Lisa Banks, Preschool Director

A loving start makes all the difference

Years ago we had a three-year-old boy at the preschool. We'll call him Daniel. Daniel wouldn't join the small or large groups with other children. He never bothered anyone or distracted the other children.

But he would keep to himself. Daniel also wasn't potty-trained. Whenever he climbed under the table, his teacher knew she'd have to change him. She learned his routines. But he still didn't participate in the group.

Then when he turned four, he moved to a new classroom. Now he was more confident. He talked nonstop. He knew all the classroom rules, like where his picture was supposed to go. He still kept to himself, but he chose where he wanted to be. It was a joy to watch him grow.

Trenton Community School Initiative

Bernadette Trapp retired as principal from Rivera Community Middle School in June 2021 and soon after answered the call from Mercer Street Friends to become Director of Community Schools.

Community Schools help close educational gaps caused by systemic issues, such as socio-economic inequity, by securing resources, like counseling and academic enrichment, so students can learn and be successful.

“Marginalized and at-risk kids deserve better. In the end, the Community School Initiative can only benefit Trenton public schools.”

It is rewarding, but the work doesn't stop. The Mercer Street Friends Community School team is actively addressing social and emotional wellness, and connecting families with agencies that can support them.

Connecting the dots

Through a generous grant, the reading intervention program was established to assist students who may have fallen behind due to learning challenges during the pandemic. While reading is the primary focus of the program, this past fall two brothers mentioned to their teachers that they were worried about not having Halloween costumes that fit anymore because their mom needed the money for diapers. The teachers sprang into action and Mercer Street Friends immediately put together a food bag and diapers and dropped it at their home.

The family still needs our help. The boys are being assessed and their mom is learning better parenting skills. Community Schools bring it all together, in support of the entire family.

A summer to remember!

For 7 weeks this past summer, Mercer Street Friends welcomed nearly 200 children from our Preschool, Gregory Elementary School, and Rivera Community Middle School for the Mercer Street Friends Summer Program.

From academic enrichment to extracurricular fun, students had opportunities to focus on improving reading, writing, and math skills, while enjoying trips to the Philadelphia Zoo, Liberty Science Center, and for our middle school students, Princeton Blainstown Retreat.

Thanks to all our benefactors, including NJM Insurance Group, for underwriting this essential program and ensuring that skills learned during the school year are not lost during summer months.

A giving community gathers

On June 17, 2021, Mercer Street Friends hosted the Leadership Awards Celebration to honor those who have provided exceptional service, professionally and personally, in their communities. As an in-person event that was also live streamed, the Leadership Awards Celebration honored people and organizations that positively impacted the community.

That evening, we recognized Mitch Livingston, CEO of NJM Insurance Group, with the Corporate Leadership and Public Service Award. Bernadette Trapp, retired Principal of Rivera Community Middle School, and Jeannette Harris, Principal of Gregory Elementary School, received the Educational Leadership Awards. Princeton Area Community Foundation received the Philanthropic Leadership Award and Kylan Tatum, a local student, was presented with the Generational Leadership Award. John Spears was recognized with the Robert M. Appelbaum Award, and Jack Espenshade was honored posthumously with the Robert M. Appelbaum Award, as well.

It was an evening filled with joy. Not only did the evening allow our community to come together for the first time in over a year, it also raised significant support for Mercer Street Friend's programs. We give thanks to all who provided sponsorships, were benefactors, and made gifts to help underwrite the event.

A generous surprise

Among the honorees, was John Spears, a longtime Mercer Street Friends Board member and supporter of the mission, who surprised the attendees by generously and graciously pledging $200,000 to Mercer Street Friends in honor and in memory of his good friend, Kirk Norris.

Kirk Norris and John Spears first met some 20 years ago on the Mercer Street Friends Board.

"I have such admiration for Kirk: He was a tireless, determined, quiet, and friendly volunteer/activist, constantly seeking – with others – to improve the lives of students and their families in Trenton. Kirk was a very good man. I feel blessed to have known him. I miss him. And so in his name, I'm pleased to provide Mercer Street Friends with a gift of $200,000 to continue its good work in the community."

Mercer Street Friends remains grateful for Mr. Spears' philanthropic support and his confidence in the mission of the organization.

Carol K. Loser — A Friend for Life

Mercer Street Friends has been a beneficiary of extraordinary Legacy Giving since the founding of its Stewards of the Mission Program decades ago. At times, leadership of the organization was aware of Mercer Street Friends being included in the Estate Plans of individuals and couples. And there have been times when the organization received news of a benefactor's passing – not truly knowing the individual who included the organization in their Will. Indeed, that was the case with Carol K. Loser who passed away on May 10, 2020.

Ms. Loser's life story was filled with accomplishments, some on the grandest of levels. Born in Trenton, she was a graduate of Manhattanville College. Remarkably, her work in the medical field led her to becoming a member of the research team at Rockefeller Institute in New York City, which contributed to the unraveling of the DNA mystery! She was a philanthropist and gracious volunteer – serving as a member of the garden club of Trenton, the Junior League of Trenton, American Red Cross, the American Heart Association, the St. Lawrence Women's Service Board, the American Diabetes Association, and the Lawrence Township Meals on Wheels. She also sang in the Blessed Sacrament Church Choir in Trenton.

While we regret not having known Ms. Loser over the years, her legacy is firmly placed within our mission and in the lives of those who she has left an imprint on as they benefit from her significant support and her compassion for those in need in Trenton and Mercer County.

Remembering Flynn James Sullivan

Flynn passed away at age 20 on April 20, 2021. The nephew of CEO, Bernie Flynn, he was a remarkable young man who lived an exceptional life and taught all those privileged to be in his orbit lessons of perseverance, selflessness, and love.

As his eighth-grade teacher told him, “You have a way about you – thinking of others first and able to notice if someone could use a hand.”

Flynn’s life was a beautiful gift to his family and friends. He loved fishing, skiing, and hiking. He was a foodie and could remember all types of dining experiences. A true renaissance man, Flynn was engaging on many topics and always offered suggestions and advice.

Over his 20 years, Flynn touched countless people. He was known as an old soul who formed bonds with people of all ages. He leaves a legacy of kindness, generosity, and thoughtfulness.

Thank you to everyone who contributed to Mercer Street Friends in his name. You are continuing his legacy of kindness and love.
