A MESSAGE

from CEO, Bernie Flynn and
Board of Trustees Chair, Ken Blackwell

Dear Friends,

Thanks to the generosity of all listed in this report, Mercer Street Friends is continuing to make a positive change in the community we serve.

With the lingering pandemic and historic inflationary conditions, we are needed more than ever and your partnership in our important work is vital to the well-being of our community. Mental health challenges and learning loss with our children requires a vibrant Community School Initiative in the City of Trenton, and we are the leader. High inflation undermines the food security of our neighbors and requires more from the Food Bank for Mercer County, and we are responding. Devastating maternal health rates for women of color in under resourced areas makes our Parenting Center a beacon of hope for young mothers, and we are making a tangible difference.

Not to be overlooked, our youngest learners work on their bilingual skills, present weather forecasts, and even hosted the Mayor for a cultural celebration. Our Preschoolers love books and have their own at home libraries. They enter kindergarten ready to explore, engage, and create!

Mercer Street Friends has become a strategic, forward-thinking organization striving to provide support and guidance which will lead to a healthier and more sustainable future for those we serve, while also ensuring that we address emergent issues such as food insecurity. We appreciate that households, foundations and corporate funding reflected in the following pages help support our efforts to address food, family, and education challenges in our community. The State has also stepped up as a national leader in providing financial resources to Food Banks and food pantries to battle hunger in New Jersey.

You are a key player in the Mercer Street Friends story. We are privileged to serve with you by our side.

With gratitude,

Bernie Flynn

FOOD

Together, we're making sure that nutritious food is available to all who need it.

TEAM MEMBERS IN ACTION

The Mercer Street Friends Food Bank operation has many moving parts. The Food Bank purchases, gleans, and receives food donations to distribute to 100 agency partners throughout Mercer County. Gleaning reclaims food, equipment, and general supplies from retailers that would otherwise be discarded. We partner with local grocery stores such as ShopRite, Acme, Aldi, Costco, BJ's, Lidl, Target, Save A Lot, Wegmans, Stop & Shop, Marrazzo's and Walmart to not only address hunger in the surrounding community, but limit food and general waste of unsold products.

The process doesn't stop at pick-up. Once the gleaned food or equipment makes its way back to our Ewing warehouse, it must be sorted into categories, for example soup, cereal or vegetables and equipment is given to various pantries. That is where our dedicated team of volunteers comes in. Each week, volunteer Team Members dutifully sort, box, and weigh food. As James "Butter" Allen, our Food Bank Director, likes to say: "if they don't show, we don't have a show."

Our Team Members are responsible for making community donations available to thousands of families every year. They are essential to reducing Mercer County hunger. We are eternally grateful to each individual who walks through our doors wanting to make a difference.

ADVOCACY AT ANY AGE

One of the initiatives of the Mercer Street Friends Food Bank is Students Change Hunger, a friendly, state-wide competition challenging students of all ages to be advocates in the fight against hunger in New Jersey. We encourage students, from preschool to college, to join the collaborative effort to run food drives and/or fundraisers to support the Food Bank's response to hunger in Mercer County. From September to January, Princeton University, St. Ann's School, The Learning Experience, Mercer County Technical School, Beta Lambda and Phi Mu Alpha Sinfonia Fraternity Greek organizations at The College of New Jersey collected over 4,600 pounds of food to help our neighbors in need. Food drives and fundraisers like the ones driven by Students Change Hunger help Mercer Street Friends Food Bank extend its outreach. We thank these groups for their initiative to make an impact in our community.

JOY IN COLLABORATION

Addressing the needs of the community is a team effort. We are grateful for the many partners we have in reducing hunger throughout the County; through collaboration we are able to reach more families. One of our long-standing partners, the United Way of Greater Mercer County shares our commitment to improving the lives of those in need. For United Way's 8th annual Strike Out Hunger, Mercer Street Friends donated the use of one of its trucks, warehouse and staff to support the event. With more than 100 corporate volunteers, 35,000 meals of rice and beans were packaged and donated to Mercer Street Friends to help address summer hunger. These meals were then distributed through our agency pantry partners to support members of our community who are struggling to make ends meet. When we come together, great things can happen.

FAMILY

HELP FOR EVERY STAGE OF GROWTH

Marisa is a mom who enrolled in the Mercer Street Friends Healthy Families program when she was pregnant in August of 2017. When the baby was born, she and her Family Support Worker (FSW) focused on his development and month-to-month milestones like smiling, reaching and rolling over. As her son got older, Marisa shared with her FSW that she was ready to work and continue her education. Together, they found resources for Marisa to learn English, gain legal residency and she continued on to Mercer County Community College to become a pharmacy technician. In June of 2022, as a final requirement for her coursework, Marisa completed a full-time internship. Her palpable passion and love for the work led to an interview and ultimately, an offer. Her FSW stated “in five years she has accomplished a lot!” They were an incredible team to help Marisa reach her goals. We believe much can be achieved with the right support.

SAFE ENVIRONMENTS FOR CHILDREN

Mercer Street Friends is committed to supporting families in need through many avenues. One of the ways the programs of the Parenting and Adult Services Center provide assistance is through distribution of in-demand items such as cribs, strollers, car seats, pack and plays, diapers and formula. Infant and child safety practices are central to safeguarding home environments for the families we serve. In addition to larger items, our Healthy Families, Parents as Teachers, and Family Centered Services program participants received household essentials like soap, toilet paper, toothpaste and toothbrushes, baby wipes, masks, laundry detergent, other cleaning products – and food! When parental stress is minimized, child growth and development improve, allowing parents space to focus on their own wellbeing and the significance of being their child’s first and best teacher.

EYES ON THE PRIZE

Yasmine's goal was to better the lives of herself and family. By coming to Mercer Street Friends and enrolling in our Adult Basic Education program, she knew she could achieve more with a high school diploma and wanted to show her children what was possible when you put your mind to it.

Yasmine found that the math and science classes were challenging, but with a little extra help from her tutors she had no trouble passing the tests. Her teachers were flexible and worked with Yasmine's schedule to make sure she had the academic support needed. The dedication like that of Senior Instructor Michelle Obermeier, taught Yasmine to be as committed to her own work. "Mercer Street Friends gets personal with students and sticks it out for the long haul. Ms. Michelle made time and created a bond with me that really motivated me." Michelle inspires each of her students to be determined, focused and work hard to achieve their goals.

For Yasmine, earning a diploma was extremely rewarding. Not only did she pass the requirements, Yasmine also earned a certificate in computer literacy and learned how to write a resume. She has a new sense of confidence to help her overcome challenges.

Now that Yasmine has her diploma, she is ready to pursue her dreams – going to college for social work and being able to help people. We are so glad that Yasmine chose Mercer Street Friends to help her reach this next phase in her life.

REUNITING FAMILIES, ONE STEP AT A TIME

A dad of twin toddlers trying to cope with his children's more complex feelings as they grow up. A caretaker of a five-year-old, learning various strategies that encourage social and emotional wellness. The parents and guardians that are part of the Mercer Street Friends Family Support and Reunification Program value the support they receive while navigating parenting. Importantly, this program is an opportunity to reflect on how one's parenting style might be influenced by one's own childhood experiences. Our parents are open to discussion on how children change and how building relationships is not one size fits all. Karen Hoppock, Director of Parenting and Adult Services, and Cheryl Miller, a parent educator, create an environment where participants feel safe and respected. Together, they gain knowledge of healthy approaches to caring for themselves and their children. We appreciate being entrusted to help parents and guardians become the best versions of themselves for their families.

EDUCATION

We bring resources to support student success long-term.

A DAY IN THE LIFE OF A MERCER STREET FRIENDS PRESCHOOLER

Ninety children in six classrooms with fifteen certified teachers and teachers' assistants ready to help them learn and grow.

The morning is greeted with taking attendance and some focused time to practice writing their names. After singing a welcome song together, each little learner is assigned a role for the day, possibly weather forecaster, teacher's helper line leader, lunch helper or, maybe even a day off! As the week's study is introduced, Mercer Street Friends preschoolers are ready to explore colors, shapes and even learn new words in Spanish!

As the morning transitions to gym, our preschoolers exercise important motor skills and reinforce the importance of physical education. After washing up, it's lunch time! The children sit together as a family, expressing their thoughts about the day and sharing stories. The afternoon is filled with teacher-led read aloud time, a moment to rest, more activity outside and another opportunity to learn at a different interest area. After a day of play and exploration, students gather in large groups for afternoon circle time and close the day with a good-bye song. We nurture the development of children by encouraging learning, creativity, and individuality.

LASTING IMPRESSIONS

Jessica is a Trenton Central High School junior who enjoys photography in her free time. She likes being involved in her community and is all about helping people. This past summer, Jessica joined Mercer Street Friends as a junior counselor for the Community Schools' Summer Bridge Program. She heard of the opportunity from one of her teachers. Unsure about taking up the position at first, Jessica's guidance counselor encouraged her to try something new. Ultimately, that advice led her to take on what became a rewarding experience.

Placed with second graders, Jessica loved interacting with students. They kept her engaged and made her laugh. As a counselor, she assisted teachers in class. On her own, she set a personal goal to make a positive impact on the students she had come to know. Jessica takes pride in having built a circle of trust where students felt safe to come to her and express themselves or to share problems. Although summer has passed, Jessica still communicates with some of her students and their parents outside of the program.

Looking back, Jessica knew as early as middle school that her passions aligned with helping kids. She believes it suits her caring personality as a people person. The Summer Bridge Program helped solidify Jessica's interests and because of this experience, she wants to pursue a career as an educator or guidance counselor. At Mercer Street Friends we are happy to facilitate youth engagement so that students can positively shape the communities where they live.

STRIDES IN READING

The Mercer Street Friends Community School model provides a network of support that addresses mental and physical health barriers, food insecurity, and home life disruptors. To help our students become stronger learners, the Reading Intervention program focuses on supporting students that are not yet meeting grade-level reading expectations.

We hire retired certified teachers to lead these groups as reading interventionists. One of those former teachers is Kathy, who taught in Trenton for 38 years. In one of Kathy's reading intervention small groups was third grader, David. At first, David was shy, not socializing a lot with other students and having him complete homework was a challenge. As the academic year progressed, so did David. He began to open up more to his classmates and teachers. Kathy made sure to support David socially and academically with positive reinforcement and as a result his confidence grew. He would answer more questions and even ask to read aloud.

With focused instruction and a listening ear through Community School programming, David was able to improve two grade-levels in reading. Mercer Street Friends is thrilled to be a key part of his growth.

ROLE MODELS IN THE COMMUNITY

Tuesday, June 14, 2022 was a beautiful summer weather day for Mercer Street Friends to host the second annual Leadership Awards Celebration at the Food Bank in Ewing. Nearly 200 guests gathered to honor those who have dedicated themselves, in their professional and personal lives, to leadership and service.

The evening's honorees included Kevin Cummings, former Chairman & CEO of Investors Bank, who was recognized with the Corporate Leadership and Public Service Award. The Corella & Bertram F. Bonner Foundation received the Philanthropic Leadership Award. The Generational Leadership Award recipients were Drew Paglia and Heather Paglia of 5Help Foundation and Barbara and David Fraser were honored with the Robert M. Appelbaum Service Award.

It was a special evening where the community gathered to support Mercer Street Friends and its programs. We are grateful to all who provided sponsorships and made contributions to underwrite the event.
